I hereby certify that the foregoing is a transcript from the records of said town of Sanbornton.

GEORGE B. LANE, Town Clerk.

School Report.

Citizens of Sanbornton:

There is nothing especially marked to be reported in our school work this year over that of last.

Schools have been supported at the same sites with the addition of a summer term at Stone Bridge. We have had twenty-two weeks of schooling for the year.

The same teachers in the main have been employed. They have been faithful and generally successful in their work. Some of them have taught a number of terms in the same school with good results. None, however, can long sustain themselves in such relaton without close application to study.

To be successful they must have a growing knowledge of the principles which enter into their work, and of the best methods of using them.

Some with profit have availed themselves of the Teachers Institutes held under the State Supt. of Public Institution. These are a necessary means of improvement, and should be attended by all who would be at the front in their calling.

We are grateful for the general spirit of co-operation given us by the citizens of the town in our effort to make our schools successful.

The roll of perfect attendance compares favorably with that of other years.

The old names and numbers are continued as heretofre.

The statistical table contains facts of interest.

Repairs have been made upon the school buildings at the Square and Chapel.

Calef Hill—No. 1.

Mattie C. Tilton taught the first term and commenced the second when she asked to be released to accept a more desirable position. Furnishing Bertha Kinney, a former teacher here, as a substitute, her request was granted. Both were good teachers.

Square—No. 2.

Flora G. Cilley, teacher. Miss Cilley carried forward and successfully completed her second years' work in this school.

Progress was made in all of the branches. Reading, spelling, and arithmetic are worthy of special mention.

Hunkins—No. 3.

Mary O. Taylor taught here, it being her third year.

The discipline was good, advancement in studies, satisfactory.

Meadow—No. 4.

Mrs Alice Leavitt, teacher. Mrs Leavitt had here a responsible charge, it being the largest school in town. She proved equal to the task and the school had a profitable year under her instruction.

Bay—No. 5.

Elsie Jackson taught the first, and Bertha Thompson the second term.

The school did well under their management.

Stone Bridge—No. 7.

Mary A. Wilson taught the summer term. It was her first term in teaching. She showed adapt ability to the work, and a larger experience will give greater success.

Cornelia B. Redding had charge the second term.

There was a good interest in the work of the school and the examination showed substantial progress.

Corner—No. 8.

Eleaner B. Lamprey, teacher. Marked changes for the better in discipline, habits of study, etc., have been affected here by Miss Lamprey.

Chapel—No. 9.

Gertrude M. Sanborn, teacher. Miss Sanborn was interested in her work and labored for good results.. Co-operation on the part of parents would have given larger success.

New State—No. 10.

Emma A. Lane, teacher. Miss Lane has taught here a number of years in succession. Thoroughness characterizes her work.

Osgood—No. 11.

Myrtie A. Hill, teacher. There was a good spirit of industry in the school. Advancement was made in all of the studies. Much general information was given outside of the branches pursued.

Brook—No. 12.

Cynthia A. Hill, teacher. Mrs Hill brought to her work a large experience and well sustained her reputation as a good teacher.

North Sanbornton—No. 13

Miss M. T. Virgin, teacher. Miss Virgin is at home in the school room. Her school was that of a well regulated family. Each knew his place and work. All made real progress in their studies.
